What's New: Summer at the Presidio, June - August, 2019 San Francisco's Urban National Park Offers Family-friendly Fun

Presidio of San Francisco (April 26, 2019) – Summer is a great season for discovery and play in the Presidio, San Francisco's urban national park. A green oasis located within city boundaries and adjacent to the Golden Gate Bridge, the park encompasses close to 1,500 acres—the largest urban park in the U.S. The Presidio provides an escape into nature, with sand dunes and forests, beaches and hiking trails, communal lawns and picnic tables for outdoor gatherings, Rob Hill campground, a fresh water lake, and sweeping views of the Golden Gate Bridge. In addition to its stunning natural surroundings, the Presidio offers free, family-friendly programming and opportunities to connect with the park's art, history, science, and culture. Docents are on hand to provide a deeper experience of the park's history, including tours of the Main Post, the Archaeology Lab, art walks, and the Presidio Officers' Club, and nature walks explore the Presidio's wilds.

Family Fun

Kids can start at the Presidio Visitor Center to begin their park exploration with a map of the StoryWalk® trails which encouraging kids to get outdoors and read a book at the same time. Cultural Dance Performances at Presidio Picnic

San Francisco's favorite family picnic, Presidio Picnic, offers the ultimate Sunday spread: blending the national park setting with the international cuisine reflective of our diverse Bay Area cultures. Presidio Picnic celebrates a different cultural heritage each month, with ethnic dance performances on the 3rd Sunday of the month. Presidio Picnic runs each Sunday from 11 am – 4 pm through October 21.

On Thursday evenings, starting May 16 through September 19, Presidio Twilight will light up the main post with fire-pits, cabanas, delicious selections from mobile food vendors, live music, lawn games, and sweeping views of the sun setting over the Golden Gate Bridge. Presidio Picnic and Presidio Twilight are offered by the Presidio Trust in a partnership with Off the Grid.

Exhibitions

Due to its overwhelming popularity, the Presidio Trust's award-winning exhibition Exclusion: The Presidio's Role in World War II Japanese American Incarceration, has been extended through spring of 2020. The exhibition explores the complicated history of Lieutenant General John L. DeWitt signing the 108 Civilian Exclusion Orders from the Presidio's Building 35 in spring 1942—orders that unjustly incarcerated 120,000 Japanese Americans, purportedly in the name of national security. Exclusion is found in the historic Presidio Officers' Club Museum along with permanent exhibitions on the Presidio's cultural history, a cozy communal fireplace and event space, Arguello Restaurant, and Earth Wall a sculpture by noted artist Andy Goldsworthy. Three additional sculptures by Goldsworthy can be viewed on a self-guided tour, or on one of the Presidio's docent-led walks. The Presidio houses the largest collection of Goldsworthy's works in North America. These exhibitions are free.

The Walt Disney Family Museum presents Mickey Mouse: From Walt to the World, a celebration of animation's most beloved and recognizable character. Guest curated by legendary animator Andreas Deja, Mickey Mouse: From Walt to the World features more than 400 objects, including rare and never-before-seen original sketches, character model sheets, and concept artwork, together with nostalgic merchandise, vintage photographs, and a variety of Mickey's earliest and most recent animated short films. The exhibition is a testament to Mickey's transcendent influence, from cartoons and comic books to real-life appearances at Disney Parks worldwide. May 16, 2019 through January 6, 2020.

Transportation in the Park

The free PresidiGo Shuttle takes visitors from two locations in downtown San Francisco to the Presidio, and PresidiGo's Around the Park service offers visitors two routes within the park. San Francisco MUNI buses access the Presidio as well. Options for bike rental include Sports Basement and Electric JUMP Bikes. See: <https://www.presidio.gov/transportation>
